About the Seminar

The aim of the seminar Unsung Heroes of the Freedom Struggle with Special Reference to Karnataka is to bring together scholars including the younger generation engaged in original researches and who have made contributions in their own fields. This seminar will provide an opportunity for interactive discussion between scholars and younger researchers with experts on various themes related to the seminar. During the colonial period, people from different strata of the society came together to be part of the Indian freedom struggle. These men and women sacrificed their lives for the sake of the country. Some of these heroes remain in public memory but most of them seem to disappear in oblivion. The present seminar focuses on such unsung heroes who were equally heroic and essential in the freedom struggle. Significantly less information and academic writings are available about such personalities. This seminar hopes to create a platform to highlight the contributions and tribulations of the forgotten heroes of our freedom struggle through academic discussions.

Objectives of the Seminar

1. To highlight the original research on the unsung heroes of freedom struggle.
2. To provide a large canvass to the academicians to share their research on the provided themes.
